Camping-tips.com introduces:

The 2022 Go Camping! Calendar/Planner and video "the first step in actually going camping is planning"

Prescott Valley Arizona, 1/1/2022

Camping-tips.com has been providing a free yearly Go Camping! Calendar/Planner for over a decade. These calendars have been designed to help motivate and inspire the camping enthusiast to plan out and do those long anticipated camping trips and vacations. Writing something down can really increase the odds of it actually happening.

The planner is available as a free PDF download that can be saved on your computer and used as an interactive camping reference. It can also be printed and kept in a camping folder or spiral bound at an office supply store. It's a calendar and a planner organized by month.

The calendar side, features a large box type calendar and an outdoor scene that has been extracted from video taken of past camping and outdoor trips. These images were selected to inspire and motivate the camper within us. Most of these images feature remarkable Northern Arizona landscapes. The calendar also includes major holidays, moon cycles and even the common meteor showers.

The planner side, contains both 'to do' and 'things to remember' sections for jotting down those ever important necessities before and after each trip. Wise campers tend to make a note if they notice something should be different on the next trip. This leads to both better subsequent camping experiences and something of a camping diary for future reference.

Under the planner blocks are references to many of the informative camping-tips.com web-pages and Videocamper YouTube channel videos. These resources are linked to a wealth of first hand camping know how and experience.

There is a video preview and explanation of the calendar and planner available for viewing on YouTube at:

2022 Go Camping! calendar/planner

This years' video has special meaning to Blueskykitchen.com owner, Ken Ralston, because his grandson, Blake, composed the music score for it! In addition to being a wonderful musician, Blake is a member of the marching band at Coconino High school in Flagstaff AZ.

Camping Vacations

Here is a two part series that explains the 'how and why' of doing a camping vacation. It's based on a camping vacation trip from back in 2017 that just really exemplifies how you go about doing such things. It was way fun. Don't know why I haven't done another one since then although my vacation time usually goes to hunting trips and music festivals. (I have done a lot of those since 2017 ;-)
